

THEO BLECKMANN

QUOTES

"a vocalist of inventive instinct and assiduous musicality"

- The New York Times

"Vocalist Theo Bleckmann is one of the most flexible and uncategorizable figures on the New York scene; since the mid-90s he's been doing his thing in a niche of his own invention, somewhere between jazz, cabaret, classical, experimental, and improvised music. He's got a strong, precise voice and impeccable pitch control, and [...] I can't help but admire his range and curiosity. It's tremendously rare for a singer to realize the potential of the voice so thoroughly

- Chicago Reader

"Mad" genius."

- Downbeat Magazine

Theo Bleckmann sounds like he can sing anything.

- Boston Globe